WILLIAM P. FAUST

Incumbent Sen. William P. Faust and Rep. Edward E. Mahalak appeared well on their way to easy victories over Republican opponents in Tuesday's election.

Incumbents retain state seats

Township and Taylor, Faust piled up a lead of 36,293 to 10,867 for Republican candidate Anthony A. Bielecki Jr. Mahalak, winning his House seat for the fourth time in a row, had an 8,094-3,638 vote lead over Republican challenger Dale C. Wagenknecht with votes still to be counted in Van Buren and 14 of the 20 precincts in Monroe County. Faust, who lives in Westland, scored his biggest margin in his hometown, outdistancing Bielecki, 14,115 to 4,356. Bielecki also is a resident of Westland. Bielecki's best showing came in Belleville, normally a Republican area, where he was outdistanced by only a 324-268 margin. The victory gave Faust a second four-year term in the Michigan Senate as the Senator of the 13th District. Faust, 41, a former Nankin Township Supervisor and trustee, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. Mahalak won by a 3,408-1,137 margin in Romulus and had his biggest percentage gain in Sumpter with a 1,217-295 total. Wagenknecht, who lives in Petersburg in Monroe County, won Belleville by a 309-296 margin. He lost Huron by a 1,287-707 total.

School board trio charges Antcliff

Three members of the Huron School District Board of Education have filed charges against Superintendent Byron K. Antcliff. The board members who initiated the charges are Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Mrs. Erna Palmer and Harry Hartsuff. They seek the removal of the school superintendent on the basis of the charges filed last week with the school board secretary, Mrs. Jean Richert. The superintendent, who has denied the charges, was accused of "repeatedly usurping the functions of the school board and violating the state law governing the conduct of a school superintendent."

At a special school board meeting called last week to hear other matters, including approving a new teachers' employment contract, a motion to accept the list of 13 charges as being received and filed and that no action be taken was approved by the school board by a 4-3 vote. Those voting for the motion were School Board President, Carl Rush, Charles Larabell,

Mrs. Jean Richert and Leo Kyo. A motion to schedule a public hearing on the charges made by Mrs. Bennett failed when Mrs. Richert introduced her motion to accept the charges for filing and take no action at this time. The board members, who voted for Mrs. Richert's motion, also supported Antcliff's operation of the superintendent's office. A formal report on an investigation and hearing into the charges by Roger Boline, a representative of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, is pending. The Huron Township Citizens Committee also has filed a list of charges basically similar to those of the three board members.

CULVERT STANDS FIRM — An automobile driven by Robert Madison of Inkster came out second best when it spun out of control and crashed into a culvert on S. Wayne Rd. near Grant St. Monday. The car's gas tank was ripped off. Madison was unhurt in the mishap, but his four passengers, all residents of Romulus, suffered various injuries.

Sabo beats Groth

John N. Sabo Jr., a Taylor Barber, has won election to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in Tuesday's general election. Sabo, who defeated incumbent Edmund Bizik in the August primary, beat his Republican opponent Roger Groth of Westland, in all communities reporting vote total in the 24th district.

WILLIAM D. FORD wins 4th time

Unofficial returns showed the following results by community: Wayne Sabor, 2,962; Groth, 1,581. Westland — Sabo, 3,308; Groth, 1,306. Belleville — Sabo, 290; Groth, 283. Romulus — Sabo, 3,322; Groth, 1,032. Sumpter Township — Sabo, 340; Groth, 76. Dearborn Heights — Sabo, 762; Groth, 276.

JOHN N. SABO JR. ...commission winner

The victory for Sabo in Tuesday's election followed his second campaign for the post. He is a former Taylor trustee, former member of the Taylor Board of Appeals and former Recreation and Planning Commissioner. He was also one of nine Taylor residents elected to the Charter Commission in 1966 that eventually resulted in cityhood for Taylor in 1968.

Ford routs Fackler by 4 to 1

Claiming an impressive 80 percent of the ballots, Congressman William D. Ford has been given an overwhelming vote of confidence and a fourth straight term as representative of the 15th District in Washington. Ford was accorded 96,802 votes to 23,877 for Republican challenger Ernest C. Fackler with all precincts counted except for two in Dearborn Heights and all of Van Buren Township.

overwhelming in Lincoln Park, 12,150-2,322; Taylor, 11,606-2,416, and Allen Park, 11,171-3,064. Ford was given a 1,509-498 margin in Huron Township, a 1,283-240 edge in Sumpter and a 3,797-827 margin in Romulus.

"I am very gratified at this wonderful vote of confidence by the people of the 15th District," said Ford last night. "It is apparent that my constituents appreciate my work in Washington and my efforts to keep them informed."

City Council resets meeting

The next regular City Council meeting of the city of Romulus will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday. City Council postponed the council meeting from Tuesday due to the general election.

"I am delighted," Ford went on, "to have the opportunity to serve another two years in Congress and to continue working for the things I consider important to the 15th District, to Michigan and to the United States."

Road patrol service cut blasted

The phasing out of the Road Patrol Division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, with its subsequent elimination of free service to several townships in Western Wayne County, brought strong protests from township supervisors.

On Oct. 29, the county commissioners directed Sheriff William C. Lucas to reorganize the road patrol and investigation division to emphasize central police services and to phase out gradually free local patrol service to the townships. The townships would still be eligible for local patrol service by the sheriff, but would be expected to pay for it, the commissioners announced. No deadline was sent for the phase-out.

reduced Sheriff Lucas' budget requests for this year. He requested $1.5 million more than this year's $1,995,396 and for a boost in sheriff department personnel of 127 men to 212. The commission approved a budget of $2,065,010, an increase of $35,029, but a net cut of six road patrolmen.

township taxpayers would be faced with possible heavy taxes to maintain their own police forces. They all agreed to do everything possible to make the Board of Commissioners aware of the serious problems the townships would face on the phasing out of the road patrol service.

Mayor issues Girlstown proclamation

Mayor Royce E. Smith has issued a proclamation designating Saturday as Girlstown Day in Belleville.

The Mayor's proclamation unites with statewide observance urged in proclamations issued by Gov. William G. Milliken and James M. Hare, secretary of state.

Mayor's Smith proclamation states: Girlstown, a home where young girls with special problems can receive needed assistance to help them return to normal community living is located at Loch Rio, near Belleville.

Girlstown is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services as a nonprofit corporation consisting of representatives of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The first unit was dedicated on June 12, 1958, and has served nine girls at a time, which is its capacity.

Unresolved problems of emotionally disturbed children have interfered with their personalities, their relationship with others, and their adjustment to society. Girlstown provides a home with the type of program that helps the girls to develop their own personalities and to overcome the emotional problems.

Girlstown specializes in care for girls from 12 to 16 years of age so that that girls will have the opportunity to become emotionally stable and return to normal community living.

In excess of 74 girls, from all areas of Michigan, have been residents of Girlstown, several of which have gone on to schools of higher education, graduating and taking their place in society as teachers, nurses and secretaries. Some have married and become mothers and homemakers while others have found employment in stores and various businesses.

Over the years, more and more applications from various parts of Michigan have to be turned down due to lack of room.

On Nov. 7, ground-breaking ceremonies will take place in Belleville when Girlstown supporters will see a dream come true. The second unit, to house 12 girls, will be built with funds pledged by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs and friends.

Therefore, I, Royce E. Smith, Mayor of Belleville do hereby proclaim Nov. 7, as Girlstown Day in Michigan, and urge Michigan citizens to appropriately observe that day as a time commemorating a significant educational effort in Michigan.

Romulus probes firearm proposal

A proposed ordinance to prohibit the discharge of firearms and weapons excepting a projectile capable of inflicting injury to persons, property or animals has been taken under advisement by the Romulus City Council.

The introduction of the proposed ordinance by City Attorney John E. Young—at the request of the city administration—prompted lengthy discussions on various aspects of the new ordinance.

Council members individually proposed suggestions for inclusion in the ordinance. These covered situations where property is owners of large land parcels be permitted to discharge firearms for hunting on their own land and on the type of weapons to be covered.

The ordinance was referred to the city attorney for further legal study. He was ordered to report at a future council meeting.

The request for the ordinance was made by city administrative officials following the receipt of a letter by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael from John T. Rippon of 35867 Garner, located in the Birchrun Townhouses. He wrote:

"On Oct. 19 at my residence at about 5 p.m., a 22 caliber bullet came right through the side of my house and embedded itself in the opposite wall.

"Wayne County Sheriff's Department came out and removed the bullet from the wall and tried to locate the party who fired the shot.

"When is the council going to consider banning the use of firearms in the city."

Councilmen were unanimously in agreement that the City of Romulus with its extensive development of homes, industry and commercial districts, is in need of such an ordinance.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT — The Romulus Police have arrested three men on charges of illegal possession and receiving stolen property, $7,600 worth of tires. The men were arrested by Patrolman George Hartgrove, who observed the men transferring tires from the stolen semi-truck trailer into a rented truck. The automobile belongs to Hartgrove, who was hunting pheasant in the area, East of Hannan Rd., near Barth Rd. He locked them in the rental truck and called for assistance. The men in the photo are police officers.

Alert police officer catches tire thieves

The alertness of a Romulus police officer while hunting pheasant in Romulus resulted in the arrest of three men on charges of illegal possession and receiving stolen property.

The men were arrested at 8:45 a.m. Saturday and arraigned on the charges were Wendel Wheeler, 29, of 13629 Marvin, Taylor; Fernando Sauro, 22, of 22314 Wolfil, Taylor; and Kenneth Hawkins, 28, of 22900 Goddard Rd., Romulus.

Warrants charging the men with theft of $7,500 worth of assorted automobile tires was recommended by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Delvin.

The men were immediately arraigned at the sheriff's patrolroad patrol officer. They pleaded not guilty.

Bonds of $2,500 each were set for the trio and examination scheduled for 9 a.m. next Wednesday in the 34th District Court in Romulus. The men failed to make bond and were placed in custody at the Wayne County Jail.

Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch reported that Patrolman George Hartgrove was hunting pheasants in an area of Romulus, located about 600 feet east of Hannan Rd., and one-eight mile north of Barth Rd., when he noticed a semi-tractor trailer parked alongside a rental truck. Three men were transferring brand new tires from the semi to the smaller truck.

The officer approached the men and asked what they were doing. They replied "we are transferring some tires." Sensing something wrong, Hartgrove ordered the men at gunpoint into the rear portion of the truck and then locked the door with the men inside.

He called Chief Koch, who with Sgt. Robert Taylor and patrolmen Joseph Dolenic and Frank Zoltowski arrived on the scene and assisted Hartgrove.

A check on the semi-tractor and trailer disclosed that the vehicle with itsload of 300 assorted tires was stolen last Saturday White Cloud, located about 40 miles north of Grand Rapids.

The owner of the vehicle was identified as Marvin Deuer of White Cloud.

The sheriff of Newago County, has a warrant charging the men with breaking and entering a building housing the semi, Chief Koch reported.

Cheryl Passini reigns at Huron homecoming

Huron High's 1970 Homecoming Queen is Miss Cheryl Passini, 17-year-old senior and honor student.

Miss Passini is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Passini, 28959 Grix Rd., New Boston.

This year's Homecoming Queen was crowned during half time festivities at the football game between Huron High and Harper Woods High Schools which ended in victory for Huron High. The final score was 24-6.

The Homecoming program for 1970 was called a "tremendous success" by various student leaders. It started on Thursday afternoon with a parade at 5 p.m., and with a student-led bonfire at the high school at 7:30 p.m.

Friday's festivities were highlighted by the football game, the crowning of Miss Passini as Homecoming Queen, and the selection of the winning floats.

The senior class float depicting a coffee pot with the banner "Huron's Perking Up" was judged the winning float. The class won a $20 prize. It was worth the fourth time the senior class has won.

A float entered in the parade by the journalism class was the runner up in the float contest. There were six floats in the parade. Music and song were rendered by the high school band and cheerleaders.

A dance entitled "Raindrops", was held at the high school to conclude Homecoming festivities.

Other floats entered in the parade included the junior class float carrying a banner saying "Huron Reigns Over All." The sophomore class float displayed an Indian with an arrow. It said "Massacre the Pioneers," the team name of the Harper Woods High School team.

The freshman class float carried a large heart on a trailer with a message of "We Love you Huron."

The high school teachers also entered a float.

Antcliff charged

Mrs. Richert, in explaining her motion, stated that she was trying to receive and file the charges and that no action be taken for the reason that we spent four hours in the morning before Boline going through basically the same complaints.

The school board is awaiting the official ruling from the State Department of Public Instruction on the committee's complaints.

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-38th District) and Richard Rathbun, administrative assistant to U.S. Congressman William D. Ford, both attended the meeting.

Davidow criticized the action of the school board in not recognizing the motion for a public hearing and "shutting off" Mrs. Bennett's attempt to air her reasons for the motion.

He plans to meet with the citizens committee for further discussions on their protests against the superintendent and for his removal.

Romulus man promoted

Earl C. Smith, 32, has been named vice president of quality control of the Wheel, Drum & Brake Division, Kelsey-Hayes Company.

In announcing the appointment, Edward J. Hayes, the division's president and general manager, said:

"We have raised this position to vice presidential status to further emphasize the importance of quality control in our automotive operations. In this new position, Earl Smith will have full authority to implement the strongest possible quality programs in all our plants."

Smith previously was director of quality assurance. He joined Kelsey-Hayes in 1969 after previous experience in quality control and testing with Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

A Detroit native, Smith studies electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology and completed his formal training in the General Motors Assurance Training Program.

Married with two children, Smith resides in Romulus.

The division's seven plants, located in Michigan and Ohio, include the world's largest automotive wheelmaking facility.

Romulus chief cites accident reasons

Inadequate traction is one of the main reasons Romulus drivers are involved in winter crashes.

Chief of Police Jacob J. Koch made this observation today after reviewing traffic statistics from last year.

"Winter-slick roads demand different driving habits," Chief Koch pointed out; and he offered common-sense counter-measures for drivers. "Slow down. Brake easy and early. Plan each maneuver in advance to avoid sudden changes in either speed or direction.

In addition to skidding and control problems on snow or ice, the chief reminded motorists that winter brings wet pavements. And wet pavements bring about a problem known as "hydroplaning."

Hydroplaning, Chief Koch explained, is the tendency of a car's tires to ride up—on a layer of water covering the road. The tires lose contact with the pavement.

"Just when hydroplaning happens depends on the speed, the amount of water, the tires and the weight of the vehicle," the chief said. "It usually affects the front wheels. Steering is lost without the driver's realizing it until he tries to turn and can't."

The trick, according to the chief, is to slow down to let the tires break through the water film and grab the pavement once again. Good tire treads, of course, help considerably. Chief Koch also cited a warning released by the National Safety Council's

Committee on Winter Driving Hazards:

Traction aids such as studded tires and tire chains on the rear wheels only can increase traction considerably, but they're of little value in helping a driver maintain steering ability unless used on all four wheels.

Studded tires on the rear wheels only, for instance, develop about three times the pulling ability of regular tires on glare ice; while reinforced tire chains provide about seven times the pulling ability of regular tires. But even so, these products on the rear wheels only do not appreciably improve cornering ability because the front wheels are "unprotected."

As in hydroplaning, steering control on hard-packed snow or ice can be lost. Too late, the driver realizes he can't control his car. His front wheels are sliding, even though he still has driving traction through the rear wheels.

Chief Koch concluded: "Drivers must recognize the serious limitations of driving on slippery pavements and develop common-sense driving techniques to compensate for these limitations. Finally, drivers should take advantage of the built-in safety features of modern cars as well as special equipment by utilizing them sensibly."

The energy of a single tornado has been estimated at a hundred million kilowatts, or onethird as much as the total electrical generating capacity in the United States, says the National Geographic Society.

New Boston Rotary opens cake sale

The New Boston Rotary Club has started selling fruit cakes prior to the holiday season.

At the club's meeting held last week, the membership was divided into two teams.

PTA sets meeting

Romulus Elementary PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the multi-purpose room.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Florence Klein of the Helping Hand Thrift Shop, announced program chairman Mrs. Joann Marvickson.

The Thrift Shop, now in its fourth year of service, is located in the Special Services Building on Washington St. Mrs. Klein, director, has worked with area PTA groups to obtain donations of clothing which are given to needy persons.

Other matters to be discussed will be projects for the proposed spring fair.

Chairman Edward Dulecki announced that he will retain the two team captains from last year's fruit cake sale. They are L.C. Larabell Jr., and Rene F. CMampeau.

"Competition is very good for sales," said Chairman Dulecki. "It is our sincere wish that great interest in purchasing a fruit cake will assist the club in selling cakes which will enable the New Boston Rotary Club in carrying out their commitment for the scholarships and other worthy deeds."

From the sale of fruit cakes last year, the club was able to sponsor a banquet for the Huron High School athletes, send four students to the National Music Camp at Interlochen, and assist several families in need.

The team selling the most cakes will be the beneficiary of a steak dinner at the expense of the losing team.

Anyone wishing to order fruit cake can do so by contacting any New Boston Rotary Club member.

Boston Branch of the Security Bank & Trust Company. Rotarian John Bardoni (right) looks on. Proceeds of the sale which will continue through the Christmas season, will be used for charitable projects of the club.

Children's clinic to open Nov. 16

The Wayne County Health Department, in announcing the Nov. 16 opening of a Child Health and Immunization Clinic at the United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St., Romulus, will be providing a service frequently cited as a major lack among local community services.

Civic leaders and service organizations have been concerned that, while physicians in Romulus are few and busy, residential building patterns are most appealing to young families with small children.

These families are often "transplanted" away from the family doctor and in frequent need of minor health services for children.

As any mother can verify, babies and small children bring about a pressing need for immunizations, inoculations and shots.

Pursuit of polio, diphtheria, smallpox, tetanus, rubella, and rubeola shots and routine physicals becomes an avocation to motherhood.

Through the new clinic these services will be available for children age two months through five years. Schoolage youngsters will be able to obtain routine immunizations and tuberculin tests. Appointments will be necessary. There will be a charge of $1 per person per visit.

The clinic to be open on the third Monday afternoon of every month, will be staffed by Wayne County Health Department nurses and doctor.

Residents of Romulus, Huron, Van Buren and Sumpter can make appointments by calling 274-2800 or 721-0200, extension 6891.

Sherriff Lucas praises Fathers to hear archer

A communication from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department commending Van Buren Township's Police Commissioner for his "outstanding effort and dedication toward promoting good law-enforcement, including the participation in the training program of Van Buren officers in the Western Wayne County Task Force, and the overall cooperation extended to this department; aiding and assisting our officers in the performance of their duties, including those of the sheriff's Marine Safety Division on Belleville Lake."

The communication praising Walter Hink, 42541 Expressway, township police commissioner, was received by the township board at its meeting held Oct. 27. It reads:

"I wish to take this opportunity to extend my personal commendation to Mr. Walter Hink, your police commissioner, for the outstanding effort and dedication toward promoting good law-enforcement, including the participation in the training program of Van Buren officers in the Western Wayne County Task Force, and the overall cooperation extended to this department; aiding and assisting our officers in the performance of their duties, including those of the sheriff's Marine Safety Division on Belleville Lake."

The communication added that Hink was a credit to the township.

It was signed by Sheriff William Lucas.

The township board made the communication part of the board's official minutes and then re-appointed Hink to serve until the new township board makes the appointment of a police commissioner.

A father's night is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by the Mt. Pleasant Elementary PTA.

A program has been planned about hunting, which will feature James C. Stewart, president of the Romulus Gun and Rifle Club, who will tell about the club and its purposes.

Ted J. Hoinka, area businessman, will talk about another type of hunting. He will describe bow and arrow hunting and may provide actual demonstrations, reported Mrs. Glenna Waddell, PTA president.

Decorations for the meeting will be prepared by the first grade classes of Mrs. Joyce Sullivan, Mrs. Judy Hanlon and Mrs. Celia Green.

Among the matters to be discussed in the business meeting will be a proposed "hot lunch" program and a school newspaper.

A motion to eliminate the holding of such hearings before the city planners was made by Councilman William M. Oakley and supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block.

Council's action was taken at last Tuesday's meeting. It will eliminate duplication since the public hearings before the planning commission and the commission's subsequent recommendation are followed up by a public hearing before City Council.

Architect, consultant questioned

By DANN BARKUME
Staff Writer

Controversy surrounds the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) and its proposed new hospital in Taylor.

The biggest question centers around the choice of an architect to do the long range planning and design of the facility, to be located in an area surrounded by Goddard and Wick rds. on the north and south and by Telegraph and Beech-Dely rds. on the east and west.

A Chicago based firm, E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership—also registered in Michigan (Architects Registration No. 15988—Michigan)—was selected by the PCHA board of directors, but not all members of the board seem satisfied.

Some board members have raised questions about the legality or fairness of the selection and other details surrounding the planning and design of the new Taylor hospital.

Some have speculated that the former executive director of PCHA Kenneth Gremore, has instituted and is spearheading the movement from behind the scenes. It has been said that a faction exists that embodies the downriver communities and the city of Dearborn Heights.

Debate has at times involved the above mentioned group against the other communities, but voting records, when studied over a long period of time, do not reflect any significant trend to block voting because of a wide variance of percentages when voting on different questions.

Gremore's alleged involvement may or may not be true. There is a marked lack of evidence to prove whether or not he is involved.

It is a fact that Gremore does not see eye to eye with the current executive director, Dr. Karl S. Klicka M.D., or with current chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti, but his alleged involvement may stem from a number of reasons. Without evidence, no charges can be leveled.

The PCHA board of directors held a special meeting Aug. 14 to select the architectural firm that would handle the new Taylor facility. In a 19-15 vote, the board voted to employ the E. Todd Wheeler and Perkins and Will Partnership.

The selection culminated eight months of study by a special Ad Hoc committee, selected to study the qualifications of a number of architects to build the hospital. Interviews were concluded just prior to the final vote, but the Chicago firm had received the endorsement of the Ad Hoc committee and PCHA's operating committee as early as May of 1970.

All the firms that submitted bids were interviewed and were permitted to make presentations. Several board members, aside from those who sat on the committee, attended the interviews.

Meetings of the Ad Hoc committee are recorded and on file at the PCHA central offices in Wayne.

On Feb. 12, Pizzimenti called a special meeting of the committee for the purpose of discussing the long range plan of the PCHA, anticipating the need to consider a hospital consultant and an architect for the planning and development of the Taylor hospital.

Guy Willard Bruglar M.D. of Boston, a hospital consultant, was interviewed at this meeting.

Also, at this meeting, original studies prepared in contemplating expansion of the x-ray laboratory and rehabilitative medicine departments were presented.

On March 18, the committee met to interview the consulting firm of Anthony J.J. Rourke and Associates.

On April 16, the committee interviewed representatives of the consulting firm of Herman Smith Associates, represented by Frank Briggs. Minutes of these meetings were distributed to all board members present and are also on file at the PCHA central offices.

Responding to questions, Briggs indicated that the fee for the services of their firm is usually set at one per cent, but that they would accept a flat fee of $125.00 for the Taylor health facility.

He also said that, in his opinion, PCHA could anticipate paying an architectural fee in the range of 6.5 — 7 per cent.

On April 21, the committee met to interview the firm of E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership. At that meeting, the committee agreed that a visit should be made, at an early date, to inspect hospitals that have been designed by the firm.

They had had much experience in the design and planning of hospitals. Their history is also on file at the PCHA offices.

The committee also decided to visit hospitals constructed under the guidance of Herman Smith Associates.

On May 8, 9, the committee visited two hospitals built by E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership and two that had been constructed by Herman Smith Associates. Attending the visitations were, board chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti of Allen Park, board secretary Hiram McNeely of Inkster, executive committee member Tracy Salisbury of Ecorse, Yale Averill of Ypsilanti, Kenneth Murray of Westland, John L. O'Brien of Wayne, Robert Wildish of Garden City, Walter Sudak of Southgate and executive director, Dr. Klicka.

On May 18, the committee travelled to Midland to visit Alden B. Dow and members of his architectural firm.

On May 20, the Planning and Construction committee met to review the findings of the Ad Hoc committee. This meeting was recorded on tape, with the entire transcript on file at the central offices.

It was the general consensus that, of all those interviewed, the firm of E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership was favored.

On May 21, the Operating Committee drafted a resolution to be presented to the board of directors.

The operating committee endorsed the findings of the Ad Hoc, planning and construction committees and recommended the selection of the firm of E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership to do the long range planning and development of the hospital.

June 11, Walter Butler, president of the Walter Butler Co., was interviewed, after which he was asked to submit a sample contract. He submitted a contract June 15. The contract was blank and did not stipulate the percentage for the hospital consultant also seems outlandish to some.

This argument ties in with the hiring of a consultant other than Dr. Klicka.

Charges that the hired firm is not a Michigan corporation and that the work force will be drawn out of the Chicago area also is a reason for argument.

The Association of Hospital Consultants is a select group. Dr. Klicka holds honorary membership in the group and is qualified to handle the consultant position for the building of the Taylor hospital.

Research shows that Dr. Klicka, as executive director, must act as the administrator and coordinator of the largest system of its kind in the state of Michigan. The PCHA operates on an annual budget in the neighborhood of $39 million.

Dr. Guy Brugler, an old friend of Dr. Klicka's, was selected to be the hospital consultant. Dr. Klicka, because of his knowledge and association with Dr. Brugler, will be able to review progress of the hospital's development, yet will still have the time to carry out the position for which he is hired, administrator of the PCHA.

The argument that Dr. Brugler is an old "crony" of Dr. Klicka's cannot be denied. The two are known nationwide and are both members of a select group. To say that they are not familiar with each other would be a lie. Dr. Brugler was hired to give the board efficiency at the hospital site without removing Dr. Klicka from his assigned duties.

All these events were taken from committee and board meeting minutes. Copies of the minutes and a chronological listing of the events that took place are on file at the PCHA offices.

Other areas of controversy have been brought up as a result of preparations for the construction of the Taylor Hospital. Some feel that, Dr. Klicka, since he is a member of the Association of Hospital Consultants, is qualified to act as the consultant for the planning and construction of the Taylor hospital.

The only date that appears on the contract is June 30. Contention is that Pizzimenti's signature meant that the contract was retro-active and therefore became valid on June 30, while interviews were still being conducted, and almost two months before the board voted approval of the contract.

The $25,000 fee to be paid to the hospital consultant also seems outlandish to some. This argument ties in with the hiring of a consultant other than Dr. Klicka.

Extension center funds available

County Commissioner Edmund Bizek has announced that $250,000 in state funds is available for development of a 26-acre Wayne County Cooperative Extension Center.

"Release of the funds clears the way for letting of contracts for design and construction," Bizek said.

"The center is planned for county-owned land on Venoy road in Wayne.

"The citizens of our area will benefit greatly from the new development because the Extension Service has never been able to reach its full service potential in its present cramped quarters," Bizek declared.

TRAFFIC MISHAP—An accident involving a pickup truck and an automobile at Canton Center Rd. and Geddes Rd. resulted last Wednesday when a car, driven by Robert Kieth of 6035 Metro, Romulus, failed to stop at the stop sign at Geddes Rd., according to police. The pickup truck, driven by Charles Paas of 15951 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, was making a left turn onto Canton Center when his car was reportedly struck by Kieth's car. Wayne County sheriff's deputies are investigating the crash.

Our men in service

Marine Pvt. Arnold K. Cullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Cullen, 31675 Ecorse Rd., Romulus, has graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

He attended Romulus Senior High School.

Marine Pfc. Bruce V. Allion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allion of 13143 Edgedale Dr., Belleville, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Navy Fireman Larry M. Lixey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Lixey, 16332 Inkster Rd., Romulus, was part of the team that assisted the U.S. Forestry Service in fighting the worst fire in California's history.

An average of 32 men and 25 pieces of equipment from the San Diego-based Amphibious Construction Battalion One were maintained in the Mount Laguna and Boulder Creek areas during the devastating blaze's life.

Bravery in the face of danger was universal on the fire front and members of the battalion exhibited this quality to an outstanding degree.

Marine S-Sgt. Malcolm E. Holmes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm E. Holmes Sr. of 42861 Bemis Rd., Belleville, has reported for duty at Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C.

Navy Petty Officer Second Class Michael G. Aimone, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Aimone of 13882 Lenmore, Belleville, has reported for duty aboard the destroyer tender USS Prairie homeported at San Diego.

Army Staff Sergeant Frank Simon, son of Mrs. Wilma M. Simon, 8447 Wahrman St., Romulus, was among the 11,000 troops of the First Infantry Division, who left Ft. Riley, Kan., recently, to be airlifted to Germany to participate in Exercise Reforger II.

The Big Red One soldiers departed from Forbes Air Force Base in Topeka, Kan., and landed at one of three West German airfields, Rhein Main, Ramstein, or Echterdingen.

A few hours later, the troops picked up weapons, tanks and armored personnel carriers, which had been prepositioned in Europe, and departed to the exercise site near the Czechoslovakian border.

During the five-day training exercise, the division opposed aggressor forces from the Third Infantry Division, regularly stationed in Germany, and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Reforger II was designed to test U.S. Army deployment from stateside bases in defending western Europe with NATO forces. A similar exercise, Reforger I, was held in Germany in January, 1969.

Members of the First Division are scheduled to return to Ft. Riley in late October and November.

Sgt. Simon is assigned as a signal maintenance man with Company A of the Division's 121st Signal Battalion. His wife, Edith, is with him at Ft. Riley.

Road patrol cutback hit

William Gouger, supervisor of Sumpter Township, said: "We just don't have funds. We couldn't afford a fulltime police force. The township collects one mill for operation. The county collects seven mills. According to the state statute, the Wayne County Sheriff Department has to give us protection. The Sheriff's Department is set up by law. The Board of Commissioners approves the budget."

Gouger added that the Board of Commissioners is violating state statutes by eliminating the patrol service. "They collect seven times the taxes the township does. They should continue to give us patrol service or quit collecting the tax," he said. "Give the tax money to us and we will set up our own police department."

Sumpter has two fulltime policemen and six parttime officers for its 36 square miles. It would cost Van Buren Township $400,000 to maintain a fulltime police force, Police Commissioner Walter Hink reported.

This would mean a 2.5 mill increase in township taxes to do so.

"We can't live without the services of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department even with a fulltime police force. Instead of increasing law enforcement, the Board of Commissioners is reducing it. This is ridiculous," Hink stated.

According to latest reports, it costs from $18,000 to $20,000 to train a man for fulltime police enforcement work.

Hink had only praise for the patrol service and the importance of its availability.

George Angel, supervisor of Huron Township, said:

"We will have to increase our present police staff. This will mean additional taxes. Our police radio is hooked up to that of the Flat Rock post of the State Police which is a great help."

Angel added that he doesn't favor a metropolitan police force. "You don't have the control as you do with a smaller police force."

"As long as the sheriff maintains its scientific and investigation division and makes it available to townships, the elimination of the road patrol wouldn't be too service," he said.

"We could probably get along without it with an increase of police personnel," Angel added.

Township ponders ordinance

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees is considering the adoption of a resolution prohibiting the holding of rock festivals or similar gatherings in the township.

Initial discussion on a proposed resolution was held at the township board meeting last week when board members were handed a 14-page sample resolution for study.

The sample resolution was termed "ridiculous and too encompassing" by Trustee Joseph Hogan.

The township board instructed Township Attorney Thornton Hopson to prepare a resolution along the lines of the board's discussions for its future consideration.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

In times past, people sought answers to questions just as we seek answers to more and more complicated questions in today's faster pace of living.

It seems the more answers we get, the more questions come up. We wonder if the answers are actually answers or merely temporized explanations. More and more people seem to be going to psychiatrist's couches for answers, explanation and help. At best, psychiatrists can only point out that the answer to an anguished problem lies within the individual.

Centuries ago, even a Man from Galilee uttered a question on the cross, "My God, My God, why has't Thou forsaken me?" Just as He, in experiencing anguish and pain, knew the question wasn't really a question, the same uncomplicated answer to individual despair awaits us; ours to accept, where and when we will.

Daily Eagle Review:

'Play It Again' doesn't make it

David Merrick in association with Jack Rollins and Charles Joffe presents "Play It Again, Sam," a comedy in three acts by Woody Allen, directed by Ben Gerard from the New York staging of Joseph Hardy, sets by William Ritman, lighting by Martin Aronstein, costumes by Ann Roth. At the Fisher Theatre through Nov. 28 with the following cast: Red Buttons, Deborah Deebie, William Bogert, Peter De Maio, Connie Day, Rebecca Shaw, Gloria McRae, Sarah Chaffin, Patricia Earnest, Kathie Savage, Marika Choma.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

A star vehicle, carried to extremes, is such a tailored article you might as well pack up and go home when the star leaves. Who can imagine what a Marx Brothers play would be without the Marx Brothers? "Hellzapoppin'" would be a disaster without Olson and Johnson as was proved in an abortive revival at Expo '67.

It would seem that "Play It Again, Sam," the current attraction at the Fisher, is another such animal. Woody Allen wrote it for himself and, when viewed in New York with Mr. Allen, the Eagle review read: "Allen has tailored his script so carefully, it would be difficult to envision a successful staging with anyone except (him)."

Despite the talent of Red Buttons, currently handling the role of the neurotic film critic just abandoned by his wife with some pointed references to his virility and vitality, he's wearing a suit that doesn't fit him. Allen is introverted and neurotic. Buttons is extroverted and cocky. Buttons tries hard, but it is impossible to imagine him

'Cyrano' set for Hilberry

Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," one of last season's most popular productions at the Hilberry Theatre, is being revived and rejoins the repertory on Saturday, Nov. 7, at 8:30. It will continue weekly through the third week in December, alternating with "Macbeth" and "Room Service."

Lee Smith, a three-year Hilberry Veteran, rejoins the company to take over the title role, left open when John Sterling Arnold, last season's Cyrano, was released from the company to appear in the Geraldine Page-Rip Thorn production of "Macbeth" in New York City.

Smith who is in his last quarter of residency as a Ph. D. student, just recently played the lead in the Bonstelle Theatre's "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail."

Reviving their last year's role as Barbara Ball as Roxanne, Woody Eney as Christian, Howard Jensen as the Guiche, and John H. Napierala as Ragueneau. James Newell steps into the role of Le Bret, which Lee Smith played last season.

The production is again directed by Richard Spear, with settings by Russell Smith, costumes by Vic Leverett, lighting by Gary M. Witt and fencing choreographed by Istvan Danosi.

Ticket and schedule information is available from the W.S.U. Theatre Box Office in the Hilberry Lobby, telephone 577-2972. Tickets also are available at J.L. Hudson's stores.

obsessed with his physical appearance and fantasizing in spite of it.

In some respects, "Sam" is more of an extended Allen monologue than a play—and Allen, admittedly, writes brilliant monologues, deft and incisive. Even the wrong end can't take away all that laughter. Yet, even with Allen, "Play It Again, Sam" was more of a monologue than a play.

Buttons appears as Allan Felix, a critic obsessed with the movies he writes about. His idol is Humphrey Bogart and, in his many moments of daydreaming, Bogey appears to give him guidance. His best friend, Dick Christie, and Christie's wife Linda try to buck him up by fixing him up with dates, but all the dates develop rapid headaches after meeting Felix.

Christie is a hustler who can't pass a phone booth without calling his office to leave a string of numbers where he can be reached and, as he piles deal on deal, he ignores Linda, who easily matches Felix, neurosis for neurosis, ultimately Linda spends a night with Felix and, in the company of a girl he knows and for whom he doesn't put on an absurd pose, he finds a new awareness of himself through her, overcoming an initial shyness with the aid of the imaginary Bogey's instructions.

Buttons does far better with a role that can never be his than anyone has a right to expect, aided by Deborah Deebie and William Bogert as the Christies. Peter De Maio is an acceptable Bogey, although not the frightening mirror image of the New York Bogey who has later tried that character in several commercials.

"Play It Again, Sam" is a happy evening for those who like Allen monologues without Woody Allen.

ALL IN FUN — Funnyman Mr. Frick gets a kick out of shapely Jill Shipstad. A black belt in karate and authoress of a book on self-defense, Jill enjoys clowning around about her hobby. Mr. Frick and Jill are featured in "The New Ice Age," the Ice Follies of 1971, which plays the Olympia Stadium Nov. 12-22 for a 10-day run.

Follies' Frick humors crowd

The man who has made millions laugh!

That is the antic and immensely skillful Mr. Frick, who brings the refreshment of delightful humor to the all-new 1971 Ice Follies which will hold forth at the Olympia Stadium from Thursday, Nov. 12, through Sunday, Nov. 22.

The Ice Follies will spotlight former Olympic champion Peggy Fleming, a very special favorite there, who will skate her spectacular, graceful numbers in every show.

Those who love to laugh, however, will look forward with giggling anticipation to the return of Mr. Frick, a comic genius of these times.

His fans never grow weary of his gentle, unexpected humor. He is a very funny man and, in addition, a splendid skater.

Mr. Frick has been a headliner with the Ice Follies since May, 1939. He is now in his best 33rd season as the top banana among the show's numerous and gifted funnymen.

He gained international recognition as half of the comedy skating team of Frick and Frack, which became one of the headline attractions of the Ice Follies in the late thirties. When ill health forced Frack (Hans Mauch) to retire in 1953, Mr. Frick carried on with the solo act that has become one of the legends of the ice-revue world.

Baldwin play slated at Wayne State Theatre

"Blues for Mr. Charlie," the famous American play by black novelist James Baldwin, author of "Another Country" and "The Fire Next Time," opens at the Bonstelle Theatre Friday, Nov. 6, at 8:30. It continues Saturday, Nov. 7, and the following Wednesday through Saturday, Nov. 11-14, at 8:30, closing with a Sunday matinee Nov. 15 at 2:30.

The Wednesday evening performance is a benefit for the House of the Carpenter, an inner city community service center at 14th and Magnolia that is supported completely by private and church donations. Tickets at $3 may be ordered through the Rev. Hubert G. Locke or Miss Kathy Disser by calling 577-3434.

Tickets for all other performances at $2.50 and $2 are available at the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, open daily at Cass and Hancock, telephone 577-2960, and at the Bonstelle Theatre, 3424 Woodward, for an hour before each performance (same telephone number).

"Blues for Mr. Charlie" was inspired by the case of Emmett Till, the Negro youth who was murdered in Mississippi in 1955, and dedicated to the memory of Medgar Evers. In a fluid dramatic narrative, it presents the murder of a black man that he must murder him.

The Bonstelle production is part of Wayne State's new Black Theatre program, including eight drama courses and two production of black plays on the current Bonstelle season. Prior to this, the W.S.U. Theatre has produced such black plays as Ossie Davis' "Purlie Victorious" at the Bonstelle and, at the Studio Theatre, "Raisin in the Sun" by Lorraine Hansberry and "We Righteous Bombers," the play Ed Bullins wrote under the guise of a fictitious Detroit.

Scenic design is by Russell Smith, costumes by Cassandra Ronning and lighting by Tom Bryant. Guitar and original music are by Michael L. Auty.

Museum exhibits art works

A curator's selection from the best of the collection of such well known artists as Sprague, Hopkin and Whipple are on exhibit at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum. This exhibit presents the rare opportunity to view the best of this outstanding collection of marine art, which is one of the finest and most complete marine collections in the holdings of any public museum.

Before the advent of the photograph came into common use, the portrait painter fell heir to servicing those who wished to have loved one's features recorded for posterity. When one considers that ship owners often held their vessels in a place of reverence only slightly lower than their families, and often at equal value, it is small wonder that much of the work of the portrait artists consisted of painting portraits of ships.

It is fortunate for history that this was so, and the Dossin Museum of the Detroit Historical Commission is indeed fortunate to have acquired a very substantial representative collection these ships "portraits."

Exhibit runs through Dec. 1.

Bunny Berrigan, Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey and Harry James, and also worked with such jazz greats as Oscar Peterson, Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker and Ella Fitzgerald.

Buddy organized his present band in 1966 combining music which is not predominantly rock, soul, or far-out jazz, but big, original and explosive. His Clarenceville appearance will begin at 8 p.m.

commissioner; Norman McNally, scout commissioner; Raymond O'Neil, camping chairman; and Hughie M. Sole, scout activities chairman.

Fall Camporee draws 652 Scouts, leaders

The Fall Camporee of the Huron Scout District attracted 22 Scout troops from various communities in the district to Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

Troop 822 claimed first place and Troop 1174 took second place in scheduled events.

An award for the most perfect campsite was presented to Troop 231, sponsored by Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville.

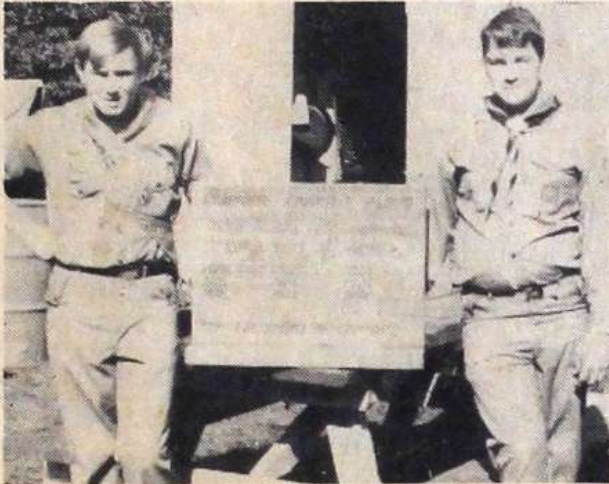

The campsites were inspected by George E. Haft of the United Methodist Church of Belleville, Hughie M. Sole, district activities chairman; Norman McNally, commissioner, and Ray O'Neil, camping chairman and Belleville's postmaster.

The campsite trophy will run for 10 years. The troop winning it the most times will be awarded permanent custody.

Before the winning troop was selected, the inspection team made at least two visits to each campsite. Troop 754, sponsored by the Quirk Elementary School, won second place in the campsite contest.

Girl Scouts from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council occupied the east side of the Huron River and the Boy Scouts the west. The Explorer Post from the United Methodist Church of Belleville, Troop 1071, were the bridge guards.

Sole was voted the meanest man of the camporee for making a group of Girl Scouts move their campsite to the east side of the river at 9:30 p.m. during a rain storm.

On Saturday night, the scout had a huge council fire. Anthony Talaga of Troop 793, sponsored by St. Anthony's Catholic Church, was in charge.

The Order of the Arrow scouts performed their Indian dances in full costume. Skits were put on by various troops. On the program were Haft, who welcomed the scouts, and Sole, who presented the awards.

To make amends for moving the Girl Scouts during the rain, they were invited to the council fire.

There were 323 Boy Scouts, 79 leaders and 250 girl scouts in attendance at the council fire. In addition there were 70 to 80 Webelos and dads present.

Mrs. Griffith elected VFW Auxiliary head

Barbara Griffith has been elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 9568 of Romulus at last Thursday's meeting.

Other elected officers included Ethel Henegar as senior vice president, Lucy Pierce as junior vice president, Carol DePas as one-year trustee and Kathy Gohl as door guard.

Appointed officers were Deborah Watta, secretary; Alice Harvey, patriotic instructor, and Pat McDonald, Terry Webb and Mary Kerher as colorguards. Twenty six members were present at the meeting.

The officers were installed by Gertrude Tortacelli, department president. Other honor guests were Juanita Kerwood, department junior vice president; Jane Stevens, fourth district president; Mary Miner, fourth district Americanism chairman.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held Nov. 9.

Greenhouses heat with gas and use carbon dioxide, a product of natural gas combustion and plant food, to help glassed in herbage grow.

Auction slated Saturday

The lawn of the United Methodist Church, 11160 Olive St. across from the grade school in Romulus, will be the scene of an auction Saturday.

The Men's Clubs of the Romulus and New Boston Methodist churches sponsor the event.

Funds raised will be used for projects to benefit both congregations. Rev. Frank Leineke is the pastor of both churches.

Persons having items to donate may call President Bernard Hughey (753-9075), Secretary Pete McLain (941-0135), Carl Morris (941-1178) or Gary Johnson (941-4336).

The auction sale will get underway at 1 p.m. The sponsors report old steamer trunks, electric stoves, lawn mowers and household articles of all kinds among the miscellaneous items, both large and small, which will be auctioned.

Resident claims partial 'water' win

David Mann, 10430 Miriam St., who protested to Romulus City Council about his high water bill, has won a partial victory. City Council, on motion of Councilman William M. Oakley and support by Councilman Fred Junior Block, approved an adjustment for Mann that calls for him to pay 50 per cent of the bill.

Mann reported to council that he had been billed three times during a three-month period for water at a home that he has purchased on land contract.

He told councilman that he purchased the home last December. At that time, he inquired if any outstanding bills were due. He was told by the water department that a bill of $113 was outstanding. This he paid, he said.

Later when he received his property tax bill, another water charge was added. This was also paid. Then two months later, he received another still another bill for $137 for water prior to his purchase of the property he reported.

He contended that he should not pay the $137 bill because he had already paid what reported to him to be due.

New Boston 4-Hers enter steer

Three youngsters from New Boston will be among the approximately 600 Michigan 4-H members who will have exhibits in the 41st annual Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show this weekend.

Joan Otter, 17, and Kevin Otter, 12, both of whom live at 25330 Otter Rd., and Christopher Baltovic, 16, of 37130 Judd Rd. will be among the steer exhibitors.

Judging of the steers is scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday at the Michigan State Fairgrounds. The Auction sale of prize winning livestock will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Performance horse shows will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Fitting and showing contests, divided into 10-13 and 14-18 age groups, will be at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Admission will be free.

A WELCOME CONTRIBUTION — Dick Powell, coach of the Belleville-Van Buren Hockey Association team (center), accepts a check donation of $150 from two candidates for Sumpter Township Offices in last week's team kick-off drive for funds for team operation and equipment. The players

Good cheer

In 1945, chewing gum industry sources agreed that the United States annually was chewing 15 billion sticks, which laid end to end would encircle the earth at the equator 260 times. By 1960 gum buffs asserted that sticks of gum laid end to end would stretch to the sun, 93 million miles away.

WINS SNOWMOBILE — Robert Sierta (center) of 37714 Westvale St., Romulus, was the recipient of a new snowmobile at the Belleville Area Lions Club raffle last Wednesday. Ron Nash (left) was chairman of the raffle. Charles (Bob) Cook (right) is club president. Proceeds from the raffle will be used for various Lions Club projects, with some money going to Lions-sponsored facilities for the blind.

Mercury contaminates

Studies show that dumped mercury waste has contaminated streams and lakes in at least 23 states. Science long assumed the dumping was harmless because being heavier than water, the liquid metal should sink to the bottom, and being inorganic, it should not decompose. But organisms in the water converted it to organic methyl mercury allowing it to enter the food chain where it is poisonous.

MAN WITH ANSWERS—In a short span of two years, coach Lee Smeltzer has come up with the cures to get an once-ailing Huron High football team on its feet. Above, Smeltzer is surrounded by his Chiefs who have piled up a 3-2 league record and who are on the verge of emerging with their first winning season in recent years.

Huron overcomes poor 1st half to win, 24-6

The Huron Chiefs turned a 6-6 halftime deadlock into a 24-6 non-conference win over Harper Woods to up their record to 5-2 for the season.

Coach Lee Smeltzer said, "We had a horrible first half, but we got some enthusiasm going in the second half."

Glenn Dregansky had a good day as he scored three touchdowns and ran for a total of 147 yards in carries. He also accounted for eight solo tackles on defense.

The Chiefs scored the first touchdown of the night when Dregansky ran the ball over from the seven yard line to give Huron a 6-0 advantage in the first period.

Harper Woods retaliated in the second period when Angelo Demangio scored on a seven yard run of his own to tie the score at six all at halftime.

Huron opened up the second half by driving down to the two yard line where Dregansky bulled his way over for his second TD of the contest. A few minutes later quarterback Butch Sueninick hit Tom Umin with a six yard scoring toss to push the score to 18-6 in Huron's favor.

Dregansky came back in the final period to thrill the fans with a startling 59 yard touchdown scamper to give Huron a 24-6 homecoming victory.

Smeltzer had praise for Tom Umin who in addition to catching the touchdown pass ran for 53 yards and made six unassisted tackles. Smeltzer also named Jack Gracia for playing a good game as he accounted for six tackles on his own while Frank Cameron and Rich Tripper made seven and six unassisted tackles also.

The taste of victory soured somewhat for Smeltzer when junior end Dan Clark broke his nose and consequently will miss the rest of the season.

Friday the Chiefs will go against Grosse Ile in a conference battle. "We expect it to be a close game, even though they are in eighth place in the conference, Grosse Ile is a solid team and just last week they beat Jefferson 39-0 while we beat Jefferson by one touchdown," Smeltzer stated.

The Chiefs will be bolstered by the return of Chuck Inman who has sat out the last two contests with an injured hip and Mike Wauer who has been nursing a bad elbow is also expected to see action in the Grosse Ile game.

Romulus escapes cellar

Romulus High School closed out the Twin Valley Conference phase of its season Friday with a satisfying last second 12-8 win over rival Willow Run.

The game was the final conference contest for the Eagles in the four team league. Next year Romulus will play an independent schedule.

John Arrington was the "big man" as the Eagles notched their second victory of the season against five losses. Arrington gained only 28 yards throughout the contest, but he was the one that the Eagles called upon to carry the ball when it counted. Arrington scored both Eagle touchdowns on runs of one and three yards.

The game was a real thriller as Romulus didn't score the winning point until the very last second of play.

The Eagles gave notice from the very beginning that they had abandoned their sluggish style of play as they took the opening kickoff 72 yards in 13 plays down to the three yard line where Arrington was called upon to run it in.

The Eagle defense showed that it had made some alterations, in its brand of play too, as it stalled off the Flyer's attack throughout the first half to preserve the Romulus six point lead at halftime.

Willow Run came back hard in the third period to take the lead from the charging Eagles when Willie Thomas escaped the Romulus defense to score a 15 yard touchdown. Thomas ran the second point and the Flyers had an 8-6 homecoming lead.

That was the way it stayed until with 1:51 left in the contest Romulus was awarded the ball 33 yards away from the Flyers goal line.

The Eagles were in no mood to let this break get away from them and they responded with a 20 yard pass play from Virgil Smith to Dave Jones. Romulus drove down to the one yard line where it earned its eleventh first down of the game. Then with 12 seconds on the clock Smith attempted three straight quarterback sneaks all of which were halted by the Flyer defense.

With one second to go and fourth down quarterback Smith called Arrington's number and the big back aided by tremendous blocks from Mike Cszar and Leighton Ballard ran into the endzone untouched to make it 12-8 for Romulus.

After Arrington's winning touchdown the crowd broke onto the field and prevented the happy Eagles from attempting the extra point.

For the first time in many weeks the Eagles displayed a balanced offensive attack with Brent Hamilton, Leslie Davis and Arrington running for 49, 31 and 28 yards respectively. The entire Eagle offense produced a total 154 yards for its best performance of the season.

In the passing department quarterback Smith enjoyed a good day as he completed five of 14 passes for another 90 yards. Three of Smith's aerials went to Perry "Chico" Gray for 51 yards.

The defensive unit also came up with a solid team performance with Ron Kersey and Cszar. Each accounted for seven solo tackles and two assists. Ken MaMann and Leighton Ballard also made good on five unassisted tackles and helped out on five others. MaMann also intercepted a pass. Coach George Pratt noted that Tony Hoffman did an outstanding job on pass defense for the Eagles.

"It was a good, hard-hitting game for us," coach Pratt said. "The win should do much (Continued on Page 18) controlling the opposition's big man once again. Casey Robertson rambled for three touchdowns to lead Trenton to its fourth conference victory in five starts. Trenton is now in second place behind league leading Allen Park.

Trenton opened up the scoring early in the first period when Robertson escaped for a 58 yard touchdown run. Six minutes later Trenton quarterback Dave Cline linked up with Robertson on a 37 yard scoring toss.

On the ensuing kickoff Tigers HB Garrade Pettus gathered the ball up on his own 15 yard line and slithered and kicked his way through on an 85 yard touchdown scamper.

Greg Sheldon converted the extra point and the Tigers had trimmed Trenton's lead to 12-7.

It was Pettus' sparkling touchdown run, the longest of the season for any Belleville runner that perked up the Tigers who responded by pushing Trenton from one end of the field to the other throughout most of the second period.

Then with three seconds remaining in the second half Cline threw a pass to Mark Krazeman, but Allen Van DeCar stormed in to bat the ball out of the intended receiver's hands into the clutches of Casey Robertson who raced 37 yards for his third touchdown of the first half and Trenton scored once in each period on a three yard run by Fran Pizzo and a 10 yard run by Ted Spoltone to clinch the win.

Emerson noted that the Tigers were thrown for big losses while quarterback Mike Garland was attempting to pass the Tigers out of trouble. "Our blocking wasn't what it should have been. Garland threw the ball well, but he just didn't have the protection." As a result of the poor blocking performance the Belleville offense gained a meager 31 yards while their opponents bulldozed them for 338 yards.

Emerson praised the performance of Tony Ogletree, noting that the junior is his most consistent player and that he put in another good game against Trenton.

The other half of the Ogletree combination, Victor, didn't provide the coach with any good news as he injured his knee early in the game and at the moment is a doubtful starter in next week's game.

Swim club sets show

The Flamingo Swim Club at Belleville High School will present "Academy Award Night" Thursday and Saturday. Both performances will start at 7:30 p.m.

The event will be held at Belleville High School.

Running for the U.S. Olympics

By TOM MOORADIAN
Eagle Sports Editor

Apparently Jim Kosteva doesn't believe in following in the footsteps of his father. If the former Livonia Franklin cross country ace did, he would be grooming himself for a basketball career and not literally running around the country trying to make the United States Olympic track team.

That's what young Jim, No. 3 son of "Doc" Kosteva is shooting for these days - a berth on the nation's '72 or '76 Olympic squad. And Jim is wearing a sweatshirt with Munich '72 - the site of the next Olympics - on the front in decorated lettering in German script to advertise his goal.

"Maybe it's a good sign," said "Doc" Kosteva who caught up with his son in Chicago where he is attending a National Safety Conference. "I know he's really determined to run in the Olympics before he winds up his career."

Many of the fans in the area know "Doc" as the energetic basketball referee who has whistled more games in local as well as state tournaments than they would like to recall.

You would think that the Kostevas would produce basketball stars - but, in reality, all three sons love track and cross country. Jim, who is presently attending North Central College in Naperville, Illinois, was a former All-Stater in the mile and had 10 scholarships tossed at him while at Livonia Franklin High School.

He apparently chose North Central College because of the outstanding record and charisma of coach Allen Carivs who was not only an All-American while at Illinois and the winner of the first mile event held at Cobo, but is also a producer of All-Americans.

Carivs has produced a total of six All-American candidates in his handful of years at North Central.

Time for those schedules

Jim didn't waste any time making the college's team. He made the varsity squad as a freshman and is presently the No. 5 man in cross country. In a recent National Amateur Intercollegiate Association meet, young Kosteva finished 17th in a field of over 125 contestants with a time of 25:51.

North Central captured first place with a total of 43 points and by doing so stretched its dual meet victory string to 24. In making the varsity squad and as one of the top five runners, Jim also qualifies to run in the National Collegiate Amateur Association's finals to be held at Wheaton, Ill. sometime next month.

And that's one big step toward realizing his ultimate goal - becoming a member of the U.S. Olympic squad.

Now, "Doc", will you please come home and get this basketball season started?

Speaking of basketball, and swimming and wrestling, I hate to bug you, dear athletic director, but isn't it time you mailed out those schedules so we can see "who's who and where?"

No, not you Don Domke, we received yours through Rocket express over a week ago. Thanks. All others please rush.

But I still say, you guys over at John Glenn need a football stadium to replace those aluminum foils. Do we have to ask the City Fathers of Pontiac to get one built? They apparently are willing to construct the domed stadium for William Clay Ford.

Gee, with all the money Ford's got, why doesn't he build his own stadium? I can't believe that Pontiac has a better idea, can you?

FORD PRESENTS FLAG — Romulus Community School District's newest elementary school, the Merriman School, was presented with an American Flag by U.S. Congressman William D. Ford last Friday. Congressman Ford (right) stands with Carolaine 10, student at the school, who asked her father, Sgt. Robert Maine, for a flag for the school. Romulus Jr. High stays in stride

Romulus Junior High defeated Belleville Junior High 12-6 in area competition last Friday. Belleville's six points were the first given up this year by the Eagles' stubborn defense.

Eagle quarterback Mike Tomlin opened the scoring with an 18 yard pass to Kurt Lenderman but the Romulus squad was unable to capitalize on the PAT attempt.

Tomlin then went eight yards on a sneak for the second Eagle tally. The play was set up with a 28 yard punt return by Donny Moore. The Eagles capitalized on two Tiger fumbles, one recovered by Ken Russman and the other by Mike Wade.

Coach Bill Thomas heaped special praise on two defensive standouts, Frank Koch and Randy Hunter, who both turned in their usual stellar performances.

Belleville's six points marked the first time the Eagle JV's had been scored upon this year. They wound up their season with an impressive 114-6 point spread.

Coach Thomas summed up the successful year by saying, "All the boys did a real fine job, they really played their hearts out."

Pack 1071 Cubs receive awards

Cub Scout Pack 1071 of the United Methodist Church presented achievement awards at its recent October meeting.

Cubmaster James Pollard presented the following members of the pack with achievement awards: Robert Frederick, Mark Sienko and Jeffery Trevorrow. Webelos colors and books were presented to Mike Soianowski, Gary Patterson and Carl Parsons. The Webelos Den was awarded a trophy for most achievements and for attendance.

The pack members, Pollard reported, are raking leaves at various locations in the city for their service project. He also said they toured Metropolitan Airport on Oct. 30.

A program on fire prevention was a highlight of the October meeting held at the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Van Buren Township Fire Chief Richard Trevorrow gave a talk on fire prevention and displayed the clothing firemen wear as well as demonstrating the emergency blanket and oxygen tent.

During a game period at the conclusion of the meeting, Cub Scout parents met with the Cubmaster to organize new committees for the 1970-71 school year, followed by refreshments of cider, donuts and coffee.

The Eagles' best result was produced, however, by Pat Sedlar who was second with a 14:43 clocking. Richard Mason was fourth, Jim Genaw was sixth while Allen Abdo and Ledotha Hughes trailed in seventh and eighth, respectively.

The Romulus reserve unit also shutout their rivals, 15-0 for the Eagles first triumph over the Flyers in recent years.

County hospital to add $9.5 million facility

A $9.5 million extended care facility is scheduled to be added to the Wayne County General Hospital building complex sometime in 1972, bringing more medical care to the entire community.

Commissioners approved the project in May and bonds are expected to be let for the construction of the building in the near future.

According to Edward J. Bresnahan, superintendent of the Wayne County Building

Authority, the facility will be used to care for patients not requiring intensive care, yet requiring more supervision than received in average nursing homes.

The facility will be built 200 feet from the acute general hospital and connected to that medical facility by a tunnel. More than 360 patients, 60 on each floor of the six-story structure, will receive the benefits of 24-hour supervision plus the benefits of having the finest medical services available less than a minute away, a spokesman said.

The extended care facility will house offices and will feature the six-story tower.

Extended care facilities in building "N" of the Wayne County General complex will be vacated and moved to the new structure. The vacant space will then be used for outpatient services, available to the general public.

Color Veterans Day red, white and blue

Armistice Day or, as it is now designated, Veterans Day is observed Nov. 11. Armistice Day is the anniversary celebrating the end of World War I in 1918; and while, since 1954, it has been celebrated as Veterans Day, its purpose remains the same. It is a day devoted to honoring the millions of men who have given their lives and their services to their country in the armed services.

Special honor should be accorded to the veterans of Vietnam — the men who still fight there and those who have yet to go. They do more than defend their country's honor and ideals which in itself would be enough. They are buying time for the survival of civilization itself.

Originally, Veterans Day was a day of speechmaking and resurging patriotism.

Every family displayed the American flag with pride and humble gratitude for all that it represented — the freedom and security of our homes, the protection of the individual against oppression from whatever source and a guarantee of respect for the U.S. by all nations.

There are those who are inclined to view the flag and patriotic observances as anachronisms and somewhat juvenile.

These cynics should be reminded that the American flag is far from a dead symbol. Following the death of former President Eisenhower, flags flew from millions of homes and public buildings. The former president symbolized the greatness of a nation, just as does Veterans Day.

On such occasions displaying the flag is an instinctive act of all good citizens.

Bond issues help solve state problems

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative 38th District

Recreation is an important and healthy part of life for Michigan citizens. We live in a state that offers boundless recreational opportunities...picnicking, camping, hunting, fishing, swimming, boating, hiking, skiing and snowmobiling. There are outdoor activities available for us in the summer, winter, spring and fall.

With all of this, it seemed unlikely that any serious problems could develop. But they did. Michigan's population has been steadily increasing. Great numbers of outstate visitors came here to enjoy our great outdoors. Our parks, campgrounds, beaches and other outdoor facilities were becoming overburdened and overcrowded.

Worse yet, those who swim, fish, boat and sightsee found our attractive lakes and rivers polluted with all sorts of filth. What had once been delightful had now become disgusting. What followed is an excellent example of what the legislature and citizens can do cooperatively. The story started when the legislature voted to place twin proposals on the ballot in November 1968. One of them asked approval by the voters of a $335 million "clean water" pollution control bond issue. The other asked a $100 million bond issue to improve and expand recreational facilities in Michigan.

I am proud to say that both bond issues were approved by comfortable margins.

This happened two years ago. What has happened since that time and where do we stand today?

Following authorization of the water pollution control bond issue, the 1969 Legislature went to work and developed a plan for distribution of the money where it would do the most good. This consisted of grants to local communities to construct and expand sewage treatment facilities. The purpose, of course, is to keep this polluting waste out of our rivers and lakes. I am happy to report that this money is now in use and will continue to be put to use in the years ahead.

The same 1969 legislature also worked out a formula for use of the recreation bond issue money. There were several proposals and some disagreements but the result was a suitable compromise.

The money, it was decided, would be used for both local community projects and for such state-wide level projects as park development, campgrounds, fisheries and wild life preserves.

The state-wide projects were to be carried out by the Department of Natural Resources. However, the formula mandates that a portion of the money turned over to the department must be used in or near urban areas where the recreational facilities will be close to the bulk of the state's population.

This year the legislature passed the first appropriation of the recreation bond money. Included was some $15 million for state projects and approximately $5.7 million for local community projects. Once more, I am pleased to report that this money is now being put to use.

In addition to all of this, there was one other problem area. Michigan's tourist industry is the state's second greatest industry, but unless it is encouraged and developed it can easily weaken.

It is no secret that other nearby states and Canadian provinces are at work to lure away Michigan tourist dollars. Those dollars spent in Michigan produce important tax revenues for all of the citizens of the state. Therefore, the legislature this year enacted a new law which gives local communities the authority to issue revenue bonds to acquire and develop tourist and resort facilities.

The bonds will be paid off by revenues from the newly developed facilities. This will be a great encouragement to the development of needed new tourist and resort businesses.

Another bill passed this year involves campgrounds. With the increased demand for both public and privately operated camping areas, it became important that the state have a better means of regulating the construction and operation of campgrounds. Also, with increased interest in off-season camping it was important that there be available good, well-regulated camping facilities year-around.

This new public act will make it possible to license some 300 existing summer trailer parks so that they can operate on a year-around basis, something they could not do under the old law.

The new statute also sets rules for the construction and supervision of sanitation facilities within the trailer parks.

THANKSGIVING
Evening Thanks

Thank you God, for this day,
For leading me along the way,
For guidance in my every move,
For teaching me the worth of good,
For helping me to help myself
Thus helping others too,
For learning all that can be gained
In seeing man's perfection
Not just myself but all I meet
Shall benefit, if I but see
God's likeness near surrounding me.
For seeing others as I should
I can see none else but good.

Speaking of schools

People must be taught to learn

By Bryon K Antcliff Superintendent of Huron Schools

Today's student needs to learn far more than the basic skills. Even obtaining a job skill is not enough. Jobs for which most students are trained will not exist 30 years from now.

It is obvious that we must teach people how to learn. People must gain an intellectual discipline that will let them apply wisdom to new problems as they arise.

A great number of our sorrows today are caused by the lack of this ability.

The drug problem may be the best example of our inability to cope with new problems.

None of us in the adult group has any old answers which work in solving this issue. Only by looking for new and alternative solutions will be able to make any progress in this area of great need.

Governor Milliken has provided leadership in seeking to solve the drug problem. Another fine effort has been made by SEMCOG (Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments) with their publication of "Inventory of Drug Abuse Problems." EWilliam Schunk, Wayne County Intermediate School District superintendent, has made a fine effort which includes a program headed by Dr. Leonard S. Demak.

In the Huron School District, plans are being made to start a complete program for parents to help them acquire skills in working with their children in both long-range and short-range programs.

Programs are being developed for students also. It is only by educational programs that a final solution will be achieved. Unless each young person is able to realize the dangers of drugs, understand why some people use them and decide for himself that such a choice is not in his or others best interest, we will see a continued rise in the percentage of young people using drugs.

Only by each of us seeking to identify the real problem and finding new answers will we be able to solve this dreaded problem.

The time to act is now. We can scarcely afford to wait any longer.

Between the lines

Election over; let's get together

By HENRY CANTIN

The Nov. 3 General Election is now history. Qualified and eligible electors have cast their ballots and have made their decisions on who will govern their communities for the next two years. The election winners are the choices of the majority vote and whether you are a Democrat of a Republican, any campaign bitterness that might have existed should be replaced immediately with united cooperation and support for elected officials.

For those who were eligible to vote and did not take the time to go to the polls, no complaint on their part is justifiable.

And for the candidates who lost in their bid for elective office as well as those who supported them, we request and urge that they unite their efforts toward a continuous campaign of support and cooperation to the winners and for the betterment of the community.

In this election as in other past elections, personality clashes and character at tacks that have occurred remains in the minds of those involved for some time in the future.

We say forgive and forget things that are said in the heat of the campaign. We ask both election winners and defeated candidates to join forces in a united program for community improvement and happy growth.

Veterans Day is Nov. 11. It is the day we salute the silent heroes who defended freedom and now lie with fallen comrades in almost every land.

Veterans Day is a time to recall the meaning of service for all Americans. Remember also that it is a time to say in candor that we have problems to solve, and a time to say, with courage, we can solve them.

In honoring our veterans let's remind ourselves that unity at home is essential to peace across the sea and that by comparison the turmoil and strife at home is a disservice to those who have faced the enemy in battle.

As long as a child doesn't emerge with a black eye, quarreling or rivalry among children should be considered normal, according to family life specialists at Michigan State University. When firmly controlled by parents, small disagreements give children practice in resolving interpersonal conflicts and introduce them to the rights of others. Some squabbles also help children to clarify their individuality.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1971, the State Department of Transportation will require that a safety standard for child seating systems installed in passenger cars, trucks and buses be met.

The standard will go a long way in insuring that children actually receive the protection parents think they are getting when they strap their youngsters into car safety devices.

Women fought longer hemlines 23 years ago

ROANOKE, Va.—The last time hemlines dropped women did not take the fashion change sitting down, except for those who posed to give girl-watchers one more glance at exposed knees.

In the fall of 1947, just as in the fall of 1970, American designers lowered hemlines to three new lengths; about two inches below the knee, mid-calf and ankle long.

Women of that post-World War II generation organized nationally to protest against the long skirts with as much spunk as their 1970 contemporaries who campaign for "women's liberation."

With the end of the war on their heels, they could afford a more frivolous cause. They had been "liberated" whether they had wanted to be or not when they filled jobs left vacant when their men went to war.

Their national organization against long skirts was called the LBK club. LBK stood for Little Below the Knees, which was where most women had been wearing their skirts. Two inches below the knee was as far as they said their hemlines would fall.

The Roanoke chapter of LBK boasted about 500 members, including some from Bassett and Blue Ridge.

All had signed petitions for national circulation, but on Sept. 6, 1947, they took more positive action.

Some 100 members marched in a parade in downtown Roanoke—complete with a float, a band, antique cars, a fire truck, the Roanoke life saving crew and horseback riders, recalls Aubrey Kessler, now manager of the Veterans Administration office in Roanoke. He drove a truck in the parade which carried the sign "The Broke Husbands," in protest against the new wardrobes they would have to buy for their wives.

Kessler remembers the demonstration as "strictly a one-day affair."

The women in his office had signed the LBK petitions and, prior to the parade, nine of them had posed for photographers in front of the courthouse to show their knees, "a cheesecake pose, like 'take the last look,'" Kessler chuckled.

An estimated 7,000 spectators lined Campbell Avenue and Jefferson Street to watch the LBK parade. The Roanoke Times account said. The club members marched in costumes ranging from 25-year old bathing suits, which designers also were trying to bring back into fashion, and 80-year-old dresses to new fall outfits, cropped to two inches below the knee to meet LBK regulations.

The float, "prepared" by a Roanoke apparel shop and a company of U.S. Marines, carried several women dressed in the new longer lengths and several in the preferred short lengths to demonstrate the contrast.

But their efforts failed. Fashion won out. Skirts came down.

"Soon after the parade, women were coming in to buy strips of gabardine to sew on their suit skirts as a yoke or as a hem border to lengthen their hemlines," said Mrs. Lee Raney, proprietor of The Fabric Shop in downtown Roanoke. Gabardine suits were the fashion rage then, she explained.

Now her customers laugh at the longer hemlines featured in the new fall 1970 pattern books.

"They say they aren't going to use them," Mrs. Raney said, a knowing smile on her face.

Our readers write

EDITORS NOTE: The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers, Inc., a division of Panax Corporation of East Lansing, welcomes letters from our readers. Letters must include signature and address, which will be withheld from publication if requested. Letters also should be typed double spaced or written clearly and should not exceed 300 words. All are subject to condensation.

To the Editor:

The Huron Township citizens committee — in conjunction with Mrs. Palmiter, Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Hartsuff, three of your school board members — made more than a dozen charges against Byron Antcliff, our school superintendent.

These charges were reviewed by Roger Boline, director of administrative services of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

One by one, these charges were refuted by Mr. Boline at a public meeting. Also in attendance at this meeting was a consultant in school management from the Department of Public Instruction; Edward E. Mahalak, state representative; and Frank Rathbun, administrative assistant to U.S. Congressman William Ford.

At a special meeting of the board later that day, Mrs. Bennett, Mr. Hartsuff and Mrs. Palmiter attempted to block ratification of the new two-year teachers' contract by abstaining from voting on the grounds the contract was illegal.

We will have to say that they did this on the advice of their lawyer who was in attendance at this meeting.

In fact on several occasions they were prompted by this lawyer from his seat in the audience or by running up and prompting them at their seat during the meeting.

By the way there is a real conflict of interest here. These three board members listen to the Huron Township Citizens Committee's lawyer instead of the lawyer that represents the board. They seem to be members of the Citizens Committee first and school boards members second.

These board members are supposed to represent the whole community not just a small but loud faction of it. Is this the kind of representation you want?

During the meeting a motion was made to file without action the letter signed by Bennett Palmiter and Hartsuff containing the various charges and to commend Byron Antcliff for the fine job he is doing as our superintendent received two thunderous rounds of applause from the audience which drowned out Mrs. Bennett's loud cries of protest. Thanks to Mrs. Jean Richert, Mr. Charles Larabell, Mr. Leo Kyko and Mr. Carl Rush the motion was passed.

Earlier this month Hartsuff, Palmiter and Bennett also attempted, via a letter from their lawyer, to block ratification of the contract by the teachers. However, it was approved by the teachers with a vote of 76-4.

Earlier this school year, a form letter was presented to the school board by the Huron Township Citizens Committee pertaining to attitude development, self understanding, self criticism, sex education, etc., of children. This letter also appeared word for word in the March 23, 1969 issue of the Kalamazoo Gazette.

Upon contacting the superintendent of schools of that area and a local medical doctor we found that the letter was distributed at a mass meeting in Kalamazoo of the John Birch Society's MOTOREDE group. Come on Citizens Committee... Wake up!! Get that ring out of your nose... think for yourselves.

We know that people reading this article or have heard what happens at our school board meetings probably feel it must be an exaggeration. It is not an exaggeration! We have heard several people say after attending a school board meeting, "If I hadn't seen and heard it I wouldn't have believed it" or "The situation is so silly and yet pathetic I don't know if I should laugh or cry!"

We commend Carl Rush, board president, for his firm but very fair management of the meetings during these trying times.

PCHA's financial condition 'excellent'

"The financial condition of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority is excellent, and its overall financial position is very sound."

That was the encouraging report brought to the PCHA Board of Directors Thursday night by Hyman Sapakie in reviewing the annual audit report by the PCHA auditing firm of Arthur Young & Company.

In presenting Sapakie to the board, Roger J. Remer, Authority treasurer, touched on the highlights of PCHA's financial progress over the past year, ending June 30, 1970. These include:

1 — Consolidated assets of the Authority climbed to $39 million which is approximately $3.1 million more than total assets of a year ago.

2 — The equity of the Authority in these assets increased $1,578,000 bringing the current total equity to approximately $17.6 million.

3 — The Authority realized a net income of $713,178 from the operation of its four hospital units.

4 — The four hospitals provided 275,224 patient days of care, an increase of 10,148 days over the previous year.

5 — The report noted that the Authority spend approximately $5,000 less than the budgeted $28,000 for convention, travel, public relations and other related expenses.

6 — The net operating expense during fiscal 1970 rose to $23,438,000, an increase of $4,119,000 over the previous year. This is a reflection of paying higher wages and salaries and increased costs of equipment and supplies; also, larger staffs at Beyer Memorial and Seaway hospitals which were enlarged during the year.

7 — The total payroll of the Authority, including fringe benefits, was $16,344,743, representing 69.74 per cent of the total operational expense.

8 — The report reveals a total collection of the tax assessments from the 23 member communities of $994,667.

9 — The Authority met all of the interest and principal requirements on its outstanding bonded indebtedness when due and no amounts are delinquent.

10 — The Central Office of the Authority spent $355,000 for various operating expenses during the year. This amount was approximately $3,000 less than the total budgeted for the year.

At the conclusion of Sapackie's report, Remer emphasized that the excellence of the Authority's financial position is really a tribute to the fine management of Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director, and the administrators of the four hospitals.

During the meeting Dr. Klicka was formally presented with a resolution approved by the State Legislature recognizing his leadership in Michigan's health care field.

The presentation was made by State Rep. Vincent Pettipren who, along with State Rep. James Tierney of Garden City and State Rep. Roy Smith of Ypsilanti, sponsored the resolution.

Rep. Tierney was present at Thursday's meeting and praised the PCHA for its great contributions to the health care of this area.

In other actions, the board: Approved the medical staff applications of 20 physicians: three at Annapolis; seven at Beyer; nine at Outer Drive and one at Seaway.

Approved an Inhalation Therapy affiliation between Beyer Memorial Hospital and Washtenaw Community College. Also a Nurse Clinical training program between Outer Drive Hospital and Henry Ford Community College.

Rejected a motion of board member Walter Sudak to rescind the architectural contract with the firm of E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership. A roll call vote was taken on this motion and it was defeated, 21 to 1.

Jackie Robinson, the first negro to play in the major leagues, was Rookie of the Year for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947.

Marie Bollman weds at St. Anthony's

In an evening ceremony October 9 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Marie Josephine Bollman became the bride of Michael James Coleman III. Rev. Ernest Javie officiated at the double ring ceremony at six thirty with some 50 assembled guests attending.

Bouquets of white mums adorned the altar as the bride approached with her father. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Bollman of 11180 Quirk Road, Belleville, Marie appeared in a white satin creation styled in formal length with a round neckline and slightly puffed nylon and lace sleeves. The empire bodice was covered with lace with the same pattern repeated in the chapel train.

Her petaled lace headpiece, studded with crystals and pearls secured her elbow-length bouffant veil and she carried a colonial arrangement of Eucharist lilies and Stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Barbara Ann Bollman, sister of the bride, and attendants were Judith A. Coleman of Ann Arbor, sister of the bridegroom, and Deborah R. Richmond of Romulus cousin of the bride.

Wearing identical ensembles, the trio was dressed in Vallo green frocks designed with high-rise waistlines, puffed sleeves cuffed at the wrist, and high necklines. Their three-tiered veils were caught to petaled headpieces and they carried baskets of autumn-colored mums, cattails, winter wheat, and foliage.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Gladys Coleman of 18571 Koester, Riverview, and Sgt. Major M.J. Coleman, Jr. of Fort Knox, Kentucky, asked James Ritchie, Jr. of Ann Arbor, to be best man. Ushers were Greg Heppes of Plymouth and Shorty Higdon of Detroit.

The Knights of Columbus Hall, Wyandotte, was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 210 guests were greeted by Mrs. Bollman in a blue-green ensemble and Mrs. Coleman wearing blue. Both mothers added baby orchid corsages to their outfits.

Since returning from their two week honeymoon to St. Petersburg Beach, Florida and Norfolk, Virginia, the newlyweds have been residing in Riverview.

Out of state guests at the wedding were the bride's great aunt, Mrs. Kate Butch of West Orange, New Jersey, and her aunt and uncle, Miss Lucy Stoppiello and John Stoppiello, both of Orange, New Jersey.

The new Mrs. Coleman graduated from Taylor Center High School while her husband earned his diploma at Riverview High School. He later served for six years with the U.S. Navy. Both young people are employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Julie Ann is her name

The birth of their first child, a daughter, is being announced by William and Catherine Armstrong Jones. The baby, titled Julie Anne, arrived at Annapolis Hospital Wayne, Oct. 19, and weighed 7 lbs. 8 oz.

Julie's birth makes five generations on both sides of her family tree. Her daddy is serving with the U.S. Air Force in Miyako Jima

DeBord-Ery nuptials read in Ypsilanti

The Liberty Missionary Baptist Church, Ypsilanti, was the setting October 10 for the double ring ceremony uniting Susan M. Ery and P.F.C. Richard Lee DeBord in holy matrimony.

Rev. Jack Stanley presided at the seven o'clock candlelight rite before an altar appointed with baskets of white gladiolas and carnations.

Maxine Brando was at the piano to provide traditional wedding music for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ery of 831 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville, and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert DeBord of 47132 McBride, Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Susan appeared in a peach de soie satin and lace gown made by her mother. Fashioned with a lace bodice and long tapered sleeves, the dress was frosted with seed pearls and featured a detachable lace train. Tucked into the sleeve of her gown was an 80-year-old handkerchief which the bride has borrowed from her great-grandmother.

A Dior bow of peau de soie centered with a pearl-studded lace knot, secured the bride's elbow length veil of silk illusion which she had made. Her bouquet was comprised of cascading carnations and ivy centered with an orchid corsage.

Ruth Ann Ery of Belleville was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Phyllis Ery and Sandra Ery, sister of the bride; Barbara DeBord sister of the bridegroom; and the junior attendant, Nancy Ery, the 10-year-old sister of the bride.

Their rainbow-colored frocks in pink, yellow, blue, lilac and peach, were made by the bride's mother and were in the empire mode with formal skirts. Styled of chiffon over satin, the gowns were designed with long chiffon sleeves with contrasting velvet trim at the waistline and cuffs.

Chiffon-covered satin bows, made by the bride, held their shoulder-length veils and they carried nosegays of pink-tipped carnations centered with pink rosebuds.

old Steven DeBord; another of the bridegroom's brothers.

At the reception, which U.A.W. union Hall, Ypsilanti, the bride's mother greeted guests in a pale blue jacket dress with navy accessories and a corsage of blue-tipped carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of turquoise-tipped carnations.

Debra Ery and Carol Ery, sister of the bride, assisted at the reception by helping with the gifts and circulating the guest book.

The wedding cake was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Olan Pettit of Tecumseh.

The newlyweds honeymooned enroute to their new home in Gatesville, Texas, where the bridegroom is serving with the U.S. Army at Fort Hood.

Kovacs observe 25th year

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kovacs of 1765 Outer Lane Dr., Ypsilanti, were the surprised guests of honor Saturday, Oct. 24, when the dinner they were 'being taken out to' for their 25th wedding anniversary turned out to be a king-sized dinner for 150 at Veteran's Hall in Carleton.

The event was planned by the couple's two children, Margaret, a sophomore at Central Michigan University, and son, Jess and his wife, Sylvia, of Ypsilanti.

Friends and relatives who enjoyed a buffet dinner and dancing, were from Wyandotte, Carleton, New Boston, Ypsilanti, Milan, South Lyon, and Belleville. Included in the group were five of the original wedding party: John Martin of Carleton; Ernie Vers of Monroe; Mrs. Vivian Bodary and Mrs. Myrtle Jezlyo of Wyandotte; and Mrs. Betty Bonner of Romulus.

Jess Kovacs and Mary Magaret Martin, both of Carleton, were united in marriage Oct. 20, 1945, at St. Patrick's Church, Carleton. Along with their two children, their family tree includes three grandchildren. Mrs. Kovacs is employed at the A & P Store, Belleville, and her husband is with Main Sand and Gravel, Southfield.

PICTURE PRETTY -- As good to eat as they are picturesque are these Coconut Thins with a drizzle of semi-sweet chocolate running rampant overtop. Photographed at Shaker Village, Hancock, Mass., the cookies rest on an old-fashioned handmade cake cooler while others are nestled in one of the oval wooden boxes also made by the Shakers. This recipe just might be a new addition to your holiday baking roster which most cooks will be checking over in just a few short weeks.

Modern day cookies-- Stay thin old-fashioned flavor to stay healthy

Many Americans may be unknowingly susceptible to the dangers of obesity because they rely on weight standards that may be too high, a Michigan State University nutritionist said today, Tuesday (Oct. 6).

Dr. Olaf Mickelsen, professor of human nutrition and foods, spoke at the 53rd annual convention of the American Dietetics Association meeting here.

He pointed out that, using current American weight standards, insurance figures suggest that individuals who are 10 percent below the normal weight for their height and build have a lower incidence of most chronic diseases and live longer than their "normal" weight brothers.

"Fifty years ago a thin person was considered a bad insurance risk because he was very susceptible to tuberculosis," Mickelsen said.

"Today, tuberculosis has been largely conquered so the lay individual is readily offered insurance whereas the overweight person may be charged an extra premium."

Additional evidence that to stay thin is to stay healthy comes from recent laboratory experiments with rats.

Dr. Mickelsen said lean rats had fewer and less severe forms of upper respiratory infections. However, after being allowed to eat at will for three weeks, the lungs of the formerly lean rats resembled those of their normal weight littermates.

There is something associated with the sufficiency of food which impairs the health of these animals," he concluded.

Mickelsen said the best way to attack obesity is prevention and treatment should start with the young since "Studies indicate that when both parents are overweight, their children have an 80 percent chance of being obese."

Hello there, Anne Marie

Scott Edward Dewicki, who's two years old, has a new baby sister, Anne Marie, who arrived Oct. 22. The new addition, who was born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, weighed 7 lbs., - 9 oz., exactly the same as her brother.

The newcomer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vitold E. Dewicki of 170 Main St., Belleville. Mrs. Dewicki is the former Phyllis Broyles of Tennessee.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dewicki of Belleville.

With a plentiful supply of butter and eggs always at hand, the industrious and economy-minded Shakers of long ago filled crocks or boxes with wonderful cookies. There were many different kinds of ginger cookies and graham cookies...some rolled, some dropped by the spoonful onto baking sheets.

There is a recipe for "Very Nice Cookies" calling for a cup of butter and four eggs -- and we feel sure this recipe would be extra nice! One interesting recipe got the name "Popcorn Cookies" because the cookies tasted like popcorn! The still popular Hermit cookie was, as now, spicy and full of fruit. Jumbles -- thick, rolled-out cookies, were sometimes decorated with a spoonful of jelly or dusted with sugar.

One note we've made in looking over the recipes in some of the Shaker cookbooks is that the directions are sometimes omitted completely; only a list of ingredients is given -- and, in many instances, the amount of an ingredient is designated as simply "a little."

One ingredient amount which is most amusing is "flour to spank smoothly"! A modern cookie recipe -- Coconut Thins with Chocolate Drizzle -- includes complete directions for mixing, baking, and glazing with a lacelike work of melted Baker's Semi-Sweet Chocolate. The results are worthy of the Shaker designation, "Very Nice Cookies," as are Filled Florentines. Both would be nice additions to holiday baking agendas.

Boy Scout Troop 1739 has announced the presentation of awards and achievements earned by members of the troop during the last six months.

The award and honors were given out at the first fall Court of Honor recently held in Romulus. Approximately 25 guests, parents and friends attended.

The Court of Honor is that time when the boys are officially and publicly recognized for their work and effort.

During the evening's presentation, the following boys were raised to the rank of Tenderfoot-Owen McLean, Kenney Clelland and Dale Mullins. Michael McCallum was officially recognized as the new Patrol Leader of the Hungry Wolves Patrol. Harvey Millar was given past due recognition for the positions that he held as assistant patrol leader and patrol leader.

In addition, Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline awarded Mrs. Kenneth McCallum for her past service as chairman of the Women's Auxiliary Group of Troop 1739. It has been mainly through her efforts that the troop has been able to attain many of its goals that had been set forth.

As a prelude to the events of this week, Scoutmaster Kline took the troop on an over-night campout at Flat Rock. The boys celebrated their achievements and furthered their own advancement as well.

Scoutmaster Kline again wishes to extend an invitation to all boys and parents to attend the Bly Scout troop meetings every Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Harrison Elementary School to view and witness what boys can do when given the opportunity and encouragement to do so. History - Three men ran a pioneer wireless station back in 1908. Albert E. Hyman, Bob Almy and Reggy Murray. They first code-named their station "Hyman-Almy-Murray." But that took too long to tap out. So they changed it to "Hy-Al-Mu." But that sounded too much like the Mexican ship "Hualmo." So they finally called it "HAM." And when the amateur radiomen nationwide were attacked for clogging the airways, Hyman went to Congress to win the legal fight for his HAM station, which had come to symbolize all the amateur operations everywhere. That's why we call them hams.

Which TV actress has the most beautiful eyes? Antonette Bower, no doubt about it... What has happened to Dean Martin's show? It's gone to pot this year. Were you aware singer Johnny Mathis was a collegiate high-jumping champion? Eight out of 10 principals of elementary schools are men. But nine out of 10 teachers therein are women. Does that bother you? No, not much anyway. Still, it should. It's not right... "Women like audacity. When one astounds them, he is sure to please them," Gautier said that. Consider it, sir. If you want to impress your wife, be audacious. Grab her by the ears and kiss her Not once nor twice but repeatedly. In the supermarket.

Fire departments get commendation

Fire departments of surrounding communities that assisted in extinguishing the $1 million fire at the Water's Edge Apartment Complex have received the praise and commendation of the Van Buren Township Board.

Letters of appreciation and thanks were sent to the fire departments of Wayne, Romulus, Plymouth, Ypsilanti Township, Belleville, Southfield, Pittsfield and Canton Township.

A 16-year-old youth is held by Wayne County Juvenile authorities for the fire that destroyed one of the two 40-unit apartment buildings in the Water's Edge Apartment complex.

The fire broke out shortly after noon on Tuesday, Oct. 20. More than 50 firemen fought the fire.

Van Buren Schools selected for survey

The Van Buren School District area has been selected at random to participate in nationwide survey of the educational attainments of certain age groups of Americans.

The project is the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP).

Raymond Kohr, director of curriculum and instruction for the Van Buren Public School System, announced Monday that some of the pupils in his school district would be asked to participate in National Assessment which this year is assessing knowledge, skills and attitudes in two subject areas, reading and literature.

Kohr said that he had been contacted by the project's representative in this area, Michael Arnone, district supervisor, and asked to participate in the project.

After conferring, both Kohr and Arnone scheduled the weeks of Oct. 26 to Nov. 1 for the 13-year-olds and Feb. 1 to 8 for nine-year-olds as a convenient time for the actual selection of the students by a random sampling and for administering the assessment to them. Seventeen-year-olds will be assessed in the spring of 1971.

The National Assessment of Educational Progress is a nationwide educational research project sponsored by the Education Commission of the States, a compact of 43 states and territories whose aim is to improve education through greater cooperation among the states.

The goal of National Assessment is to collect census-like data about the kinds of information people have acquired, either through formal or informal educational experience.

These kinds of information correspond generally to the subjects taught in school: science, reading, literature, music, social studies, mathematics, writing, art, citizenship, and career and occupational development (originally called vocational education).

Since it is not physically and financially possible to interview every person in the nation, a probability sampling of individuals in four selected age groups is taken from across the nation. This method is not unlike that employed by the various national polls to survey public opinion, but it is a method not previously used in educational research.

The four age levels asked to participate in the assessment are 9, 13, 17-year-olds (the 17-year-olds are subdivided into two groups those in school and those out of school), and adults between the ages of 26 and 35.

Each of the groups was selected because it represents a certain plateau of educational development: a 9-year-old has completed most of his elementary schooling; a 13-year-old has finished most of his high school education; and adults between the ages of 26 and 35 have usually finished most of their formal education.

All individuals who participate in the National Assessment project remain anonymous. For those school children participating in the project, neither their names, the names of their schools, nor the names of their school district are identified. The responses of sampled adults, interviewed in a separate survey, are also confidential.

The project's results are reported according to the percentage of correct and incorrect responses to a given question. Results are reported to both general and educational audiences at public meetings which are held, often in conjunction with conventions of the Educational Commission of the States, throughout the country.

Reports of results in two of the three subject areas assessed during the 1969-70 school year — science and citizenship — were reported in July, 1970 at the annual ECS convention. Other reports for these two areas and for the third subject assessed last year — writing — will be released during coming months.

First reports were of national results; subsequently, comparisons among such groups as the geographical regions (northeast, southeast, central, west), size of community (big cities, fringe around big cities, middle-size cities, and smaller areas), type of community (inner-city, suburbs, and rural), sex, and perhaps color will be released.

The first reports for reading and literature will probably be available during the summer of 1971.

Children study actors

Sixth grade students and students attending special education classes at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School were treated to a professional performance of the play "Hansel and Gretel" at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

The school is planning to present its own school play entitled "American is a Song" in December on the Romulus

High School stage. The students attended the Detroit showing of Hansel and Gretel to gather ideas for their own production.

Attending the show were students of Mrs. Joan Margins, Mrs. Ruth McIntosh and the sixth graders taught by Martin Dickerson and Mrs. Diane Golka.
